New York, Aug. 18 .- Thursday, Aug. 28, the "Bonnie Brier Bush" company take up the line of march towards the Pacific coast, their first performance being given in St. Louis, Saturday, Aug. 30; from that city they proceed to Kansas City, Omaha and Denver, jumping from the latter place direct to San Francisco, where for two weeks they occupy the California theater, Portland, Tacoma, Seattle, and the principal cites of California will be visited before they turn their faces eastward, reaching Salt Lake about Oct. 18. In this year's cast, several new faces will be seen, but the leading characters are in the same old hands, those of J. H. Stoddart and Reuben Fax, who are a team hard to beat. The part of Flora McDonald, played by Irma LaPierre all ast season, has been assigned to another well known professional: Miss La Pierre has a decided taste for comedy, and goes out early next month with a company under the same management. The other changes have been among the minor characters, so that the piece loses nothing in strength. Two of the original quartet have dropped out, and their places taken by others. F. Barrington Foote, baritone, son of Gen. Barrington Foote of the English army, who has traveled as soloist with Patti. Melba, Albani, and who was with Sims Reeves for two years, left the company last April when they played their re-turn engagement in Montreal, and has opened a studio there, for voice culture. Mr. Foote has a fine voice, and was invaluable to the quartet during last season's engagement. When Albani, on her last tour through America gave a concert at the Salt Lake the-ater—I do not recall the year—Mr. Foote was her baritone soloist. Wm. White, the basso, accepted a position with an opera company, at the close of the tour, for the coming season; he ssesses a magnificent voice. Mr. R. 2. Easton was engaged for the seasons of 1902 and 1903 during the last winter's long and seuccessful run-so that he and the second tenor, Mr. Stepner, are the two that remain of the famous "Bounie Brier Bush" quartet.

Miss Gwen Hubbard finished the summer course at Columbia college Friday, Aug. 15, and is undecided about returning to the Pratt Institute, Brook-Joseph Haworth's farewell next Wednesday, lyn, or remaining at Columbia, the coming winter, but the chances are in favor of Columbia.

Professor Wm. Tipton and wife left Saturday, Aug. 16, for their home. The professor enjoyed his school term at Columbia, exceedingly; both he and his wife made many friends among the professors and also with the branch

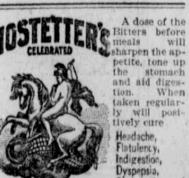

The latest technical work on plano playing, thoroughly illustrated with drawings of all hand positions, by Fraulein Marie Prentner of Vienna, Austria, which is widely talked of Austria, which is widely talked of among the leading planists here is just appearing in the best known book and music stores on Brodway. It is the brain work of a favored pupil of the great and only Leschetizky, and it is entitled the "Method Leschetizky." This same Fraulein Prentner is the teacher of a young Salt Lake boy, Spencer Clawson, Jr., in Vienna. The Fraulein holds a high position among musicians in Vienna, and this, her latmusicians in Vienna, and this her latest work, is considered the most able one before the public. It is to be one before the public. It is to be published in England and America, as well as Germany. The master assigns many publis to her, as it generally re-cuires a year or two's hard and close application to work with most American students, whose ambition takes them abroad, before Leschetizky v.ill consent to give them lessons. Mr. consent to give them lessons. Mr. Clawson had the chance to play before this great master, and he at once appointed Fraulein Prentner as his teach-er for some months. He spoke en-couragingly to young Clawson, giving him excellent advice, and was in every way cordial in his treatment of him.

Miss Bertha Leland, who has been hard at work all summer in a Wall street office, with stenography and type writing, leaves the coming week with the "Stranger in New York" Co. She has a good part, besides being understudy for the leading lady. They go direct to Washington, D. C., where they rehearse for one week, before playing. They make the tour to the Pacific coast, and expect to be in Salt Lake about the holiday week. The company return to New York June, 1903.

At the Sunday services of the Latter-day Saints, Brigham Cannon of Sait Lake addressed the congregation in an interesting manner. He has been east for some time on mining business, visiting Scranton, Philadelphia and Boston, and he will return west in about ten days. At the Sunday even-ing service, Elder Arthur Welling delivered as fine a lecture as has been given in that hall; being a natural orator, his theme, and delivery, seemed an inspiration to all who heard him; he, with several other young Elders here, is making a fine record as a

Whether or not we are to have the great "Fragonard" masterpleces, is the question that is agitating the art loving public at present. Will Pierpont Morgan place them in the Museum, Morgan place them in the Museum, where the masses may feast their eyes upon them, or will he, as so many of the fabulously wealthy do, keep them for his home, where only the friends and intimates of the rich man, may enjoy their beauties? All these are questions that the papers are daily discussing, and from the masses who are on a soul feating in this great building. an equal footing in this great building of art and history, the prayer is, that the public may be given the benefit of Fragonard's wonderful art. At this time, while Du Barry holds the public as the does it seems a fitting time to as she does, it seems a fitting time to exhibit the paintings to her numerous admirers, and at the seme time pay court to the man whose genius has made "La Du Barry immortal."

Miss Ellen Clark of Farmington, who has spent some weeks at Chautauqua, taking a summer course of study, and who has there met and listened to some of the brightest men and women in America, on every question of importance that comes before such learned bodies, has had her experience, as many a one has had, who cannot bear in silence, to hear her people
